MANDATE OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Board of Directors (the "Board") of Elevation Gold Mining Corp. ("Elevation " or the "Company") is responsible for the management of the business of the Company consistent with the powers and obligations under the Business Corporations Act (British Columbia) (the "Act") and other statutory and legal requirements generally applicable to directors of a business that is a reporting issuer for securities purposes in Canada and is listed on the TSX Venture Exchange.

Under the Act, the directors of the Company (the "Directors") are required to act honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of the Company, and to exercise the care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent person would exercise in comparable circumstances.

The Board believes that it has a responsibility to maximize shareholder value and to oversee the management of the Company, which is conducted under the supervision of the Chief Executive Officer ("CEO") of the Company.

The Board carries out its responsibilities directly and through its committees. The Board has the following stewardship responsibilities.

Governance

The Board, either directly or through the compensation, corporate governance and nominating committee, establishes and oversees all corporate governance policies, and reviews and monitors the corporate governance practices and disclosure policies for the Company.

The Board has approved a disclosure and trading policy and a code of business conduct and ethics to which all Directors, officers and employees of the Company are bound.

The Board believes that it is the function of executive management, led by the CEO, to speak for the Company in its communications with shareholders, the investment community, regulatory authorities, the media and any other interested parties. It is understood that other individual Directors may, from time to time, be requested by management to assist with such communications.

The Board approves the content of the Company's major communications to shareholders and the public.

Strategic Planning and Development

The Board approves and monitors the implementation of the Company's strategic plans and long term goals and objectives, as prepared and presented by the CEO with support from executive management. Such plans include the identification and assessment of risks, with provisions to manage and mitigate those risks, as well as strategies for each entity in which the Company has a significant ownership interest. These plans may also include specific steps and performance indicators that enable the Board to evaluate progress on implementing such strategies.

The Board approves and monitors annual capital and operating plans and budgets to implement the Company's business strategies, together with key financial and other performance goals for the Company's activities, as prepared and presented by the CEO with support from executive management.

The Board regularly reviews corporate performance and progress towards these plans and performs an in-depth review of these strategic plans on at least an annual basis. Any material revisions to the plans are to be approved by the Board.

The Board expects executive management to keep the Board informed of all significant developments regarding these strategic plans in a timely and candid manner.

Financial Planning and Capital Structure Oversight

The Board advises management on appropriate financing strategies in accordance with the Company's strategic plan. The Board mandates that the financing of projects and working capital requirements recognizes a capital structure to reflect an appropriate level of risk, while managing the cost of capital, in order to maximize shareholder value. The Board will consider both internal and external factors, including economic and market conditions, in carrying out its role.

Monitoring and Internal Controls

The audit committee reviews and reports to the board that the financial performance of the Company is reported according to statutory and legal requirements and that financial results are reported fairly and in accordance with generally accepted accounting standards or such other accounting standards as may be applicable to the Company from time to time. The audit committee also reviews the financial performance and reporting of the Company and assesses the integrity of the Company's financial reporting, internal controls and management information systems.

The Board and the audit committee review and monitor the Company's financial risks and risk management policies, and the financial structure of the Company, the audit committee making recommendations to the Board as appropriate.

Executive Management Oversight and Succession Planning

The Board regularly considers the integrity, quality and continuity of management required to achieve the Company's goals. The Board has adopted a mandate for the CEO (see "Mandate for the Chief Executive Officer" which sets out the scope for that position). The CEO mandate will be reviewed from time to time by the Board.

The Board, under the guidance of the committee responsible for compensation, approves the employment terms of executive management and corporate officers, and is responsible for developing and maintaining an executive management succession plan, including an emergency CEO succession plan.

On an annual basis, the compensation committee measures executive management performance, development and total compensation against the objectives set and makes recommendations to the Board in that regard.

All Directors have open access to the Company's executive management.

BOARD PRACTICES AND TERMS OF REFERENCE

Board Committees

The Board establishes and dissolves committees at its discretion in accordance with the ongoing needs of the Company. However, at all times there will be an audit committee, and a compensation, corporate governance and nominating committee.

Each of the audit committee, and the compensation, corporate governance and nominating committees, must be comprised of three or more Directors, with independence in accordance with applicable securities and stock exchange rules and the exceptions and relief provided therein.

Each committee operates under a written mandate, approved by the Board, which sets out its authority, composition, duties and responsibilities. The responsibilities of the Board may be delegated from time to time to committees of the Board on such terms as the Board may consider appropriate and subject to the provision of statutory and legal requirements.

Board Composition and Effectiveness

Through its growth, the Company will strive to attain a majority of Directors on the Board that are unrelated and independent as defined by applicable securities and stock exchange rules. The Board assesses the independence of each Director on an annual basis. Directors have an ongoing obligation to inform the governance committee of any material changes in their circumstances or relationships that may affect the Board's determination as to their independence.

The Board has adopted a position description for a Chairman; see "Mandate for the Chairman of the Board", which sets out the duties and responsibilities for that position. This position description will be reviewed from time to time. Through the Company's growth, the Company shall endeavour to separate the role of Chairman and CEO with the goal of having a Chairman who is an unrelated, independent Director of the Company.

Under the guidance of the nominating committee, the Board establishes the competencies and skills the Board considers to be necessary for the Board as a whole, each existing Director, and new nominees to the Board. The Board considers the appropriate size of the Board, under the guidance of the nominating committee, on an annual basis, with a view to facilitating effective decision making.

The Board is responsible for the establishment and oversight of the performance of its committees and the appointment of members to serve on such committees. The nominating committee, in conjunction with the Chairman of the Board, will recommend Board members for appointment to the committees of the Board.

Director Orientation and Education

The nominating committee identifies candidates for Board membership, and makes recommendations to the Board for nomination as directors to the Board, based on their character, integrity, judgment and record of achievement and any other qualifications which would add to the Board's decision making process and enhance the overall management of the Company's business.

The Board has an informal process for the orientation of new Board members regarding the role of the Board, its committees and Directors, and the nature of operation of the Company's operations. New Directors meet with executive management and incumbent Directors and are provided with written materials to aid in their familiarization with the Company.

Directors are made aware of their responsibility to keep themselves up to date with best director and corporate governance practices and are encouraged and funded to attend seminars that will increase their own and the Board's effectiveness.

Conflict of Interest

A perceived conflict of interest may arise if a Director, or a member of his/her immediate family or household, has a material interest or relationship with a supplier or competitor of the Company, or if a Director engages in any business, personal or other activity, directly or indirectly, which may be construed as being in conflict with Company's interests, or which may, or may appear to, compromise the Director's ability to act impartially on behalf of the Company.

In addition to adhering to the Company's Code of Business Conduct and Ethics, individual Directors must continually monitor their activities and interests; when an actual, potential, or potentially perceived conflict of interest arises, must immediately advise the Company's audit committee Chairperson, Chairperson of the Board, or the Board as a whole. The audit committee Chairperson, Chairperson of the Board, or the Board, as applicable, shall make a determination as to whether a conflict exists and what subsequent action, if any, is appropriate. The audit committee Chairperson or Chairperson of the Board shall immediately inform the Board of such determination and action. The Board shall retain the right to modify or reverse such determination and action.

Each Director shall ensure that all filed regulatory documents contain full disclosure regarding all his/her director and officer positions held and all other relevant information required by the applicable securities regulatory authorities.

Meetings

The Board meets at least on a quarterly basis and holds additional meetings as required or appropriate to deal with ongoing corporate matters or long term strategic planning. Any Director may request that a meeting of the Board take place, such requests being made to the Chairman who shall make the determination as to whether or not the requested meeting is to be held.

The Chairman and CEO, in consultation, will set the agenda for each board meeting, with the assistance of or by delegation to the Corporate Secretary. Any Director may request additional items for inclusion on the agenda for a scheduled quarterly Board meeting.

The Board prefers that all Directors attend all scheduled quarterly meetings in person wherever feasible. If unable to attend in person, a Director may attend a meeting via telephone or other agreed electronic means. Attendance at meetings will be recorded in the minutes of the meetings.

The Board is to receive regular quarterly reports on the financial results and significant business activities of the Company, as well as appropriate documentation regarding matters for Board approval, in a timely manner in advance of Board meetings in order to ensure effectiveness of action at such meetings.

The Board may also take action from time to time by unanimous written consent resolutions.

The Board, and its committees, to the extent permissible under each committee's written mandate, has the authority to retain legal, accounting and other consultants to advise it. The Board may request any officer or employee of the Company, or its outside counsel or auditors, to attend any meeting of the Board or to meet with any members of, or consultants to the Board.

CODE OF BUSINESS CONDUCT AND ETHICS

Introduction

Elevation requires high standards of professional and ethical conduct from its directors, officers, and employees. Elevation's reputation with its shareholders and prospective investors for honesty and integrity is key to the success of the Company.

Reference in this Code of Business Ethics and Conduct (the "Code") to "Elevation" or the "Company", means Elevation Gold Mining Corp. Reference to "employees", means all directors, officers, employees and senior managers of affiliates of Elevation, and where appropriate, contractors and subcontractors of the Company and its affiliates.

This Code is intended to document the principles of conduct of ethics to be followed by all Elevation employees. This Code reflects the Company's commitments to a culture of honesty, integrity and accountability and outlines the basic principles and policies with which all employees are expected to comply.

In addition to following this Code in all aspects of their business activities, employees are expected to seek guidance in any case where there is a question about the compliance with both, the letter and the spirit of the Company's policies and applicable laws. This Code covers a wide range of business practices and procedures. It does not cover every issue that may arise, but it sets out basic principles to guide all employees of the Company. Violation of the law, the Company's governance policies or this Code is grounds for disciplinary action up to and including, but without limitation, immediate termination of employment or directorship.

Compliance with Law

Compliance with the letters and the spirit of all laws, rules and regulations applicable to the Company is critical to the Company's reputation and continued success. All employees must at all times respect and obey the law and should avoid any situation that could be perceived as improper, unethical or indicate a casual attitude towards compliance with the law. No employee shall commit or condone an illegal act or instruct another employee to do so. Not all employees are expected to know the details of all laws, but it is important to know enough to determine when to seek advice from supervisors, managers or other appropriate personnel.

Conflicts of Interest

A conflict of interest occurs when an individual's private interest interferes, or appears to interfere, in any way with the interests of the Company or any of its affiliates. A conflict situation can arise when an employee takes actions or has interests that may make it difficult to perform his or her work for the Company or any affiliate objectively and effectively. Conflicts of interest also arise when an employee, or a member of his or her family, receives improper benefits as a result of his or her position in the Company or its affiliates.

Loans to, or guarantees of obligations of, such persons are likely to pose conflicts of interest, as are transactions of any kind between the Company or its affiliates and any other organization in which an employee or employee's family member has an interest.

Activities that could give rise to conflicts of interest are prohibited unless specifically approved by the Board of Directors of Elevation. It is not always easy to determine whether a conflict of interest exists; therefore, an employee should immediately report any potential conflict of interest to the Company's CEO and Audit Committee Chairman.

Corporate Opportunities

Employees are prohibited from taking for themselves personally opportunities that arise through the use of corporate property, information or position of personal gain. Employees are also prohibited from competing with the Company and its affiliates directly or indirectly. Employees owe a duty to the Company and its affiliates to advance the legitimate interests of the Company and its affiliates when the opportunity to do so arises.

Confidentiality

Employees must maintain the confidentiality of all information entrusted to them by the Company or that otherwise comes into their possession in the course of their employment, except when disclosure is authorized by the Chief Executive Officer of the Company or legally mandated. Confidential information, such as personal employee information, must be used for authorized purposes only and in accordance with applicable legislation.

Confidential information includes all non-public information that may be of use to competitors, or harmful to the Company or its customers or business partners, if disclosed. It also includes information that others have entrusted to the Company and employees.

The obligation to preserve confidential information continues even after the employees leave the Company or its affiliates.

Protection and Proper Use of Company Assets

All employees should endeavor to protect the Company's assets and ensure their efficient use. Theft, carelessness and waste have a direct impact on the Company's success. Any suspected incidents of fraud or theft should be immediately reported for investigation.

Company assets, such as funds, products or computers may only be used for legitimate business purposes or other purposes approved by management. Company assets must never be used for illegal purposes.

The obligation to protect the Company's assets includes proprietary information. Proprietary information includes any information that is not generally known to the public or would be helpful to the Company's competitors. Examples of proprietary information include intellectual property, business, marketing and service plans, engineering and manufacturing ideas, designs, databases, records, salary information and any unpublished financial data or reports.

Unauthorized use or distribution of this information is a violation of Company policy. It may also be illegal and may result in civil and criminal penalties.

The obligation to preserve proprietary information continues even after an employee leaves the Company or its affiliates.

Integrity of Records and Financial Reports

Honest and accurate recording and reporting of information is critical to the Company's financial reporting obligations as a public company and the ability to make responsible business decisions. All transactions must be supported by accurate documentation in reasonable detail and properly recorded. All Company's books, records, accounts and financial statements must be maintained in reasonable detail, must truthfully, accurately and appropriately reflect the Company's transactions and must conform to applicable legal and accounting requirements and to the Company's system of internal controls. Depending on their position within the Company, employees may be called upon to provide necessary information to ensure that the Company's public reports are complete and accurate.

Business records and communications may become public through legal or regulatory disclosures or investigations or the media. In all communications, including emails, informal notes, or internal memos, employees should avoid exaggeration, derogatory remarks, legal conclusions or inappropriate characterizations of people and companies.

Insider Trading

Employees who have access to confidential information are not permitted to use or share that information for stock

trading purposes or for any other purpose except the conduct of the business of the Company. All non-public information about the Company and its affiliates should be considered confidential. To use non-public information for personal financial benefit or to "tip" others who might make an investment decision on the basis of this information is unethical and illegal.

The Company is committed to compliance with all applicable laws, rules, and regulations, including laws and regulations applicable to the Company's securities and trading in such securities, as well as any rules promulgated by any exchange on which the Company's shares are listed or quoted for trading.

Company Personnel are referred to the Company's Blackout & Securities Trading Policy.

Fair Dealing

The principle of fair competition is basic to all of the Company's operations. Elevation seeks competitive advantages through fair and honest means and superior performance, never through unethical or illegal business practices. Each employee should endeavor to deal fairly with the Company's customers, suppliers, competitors and employees. When dealing with suppliers and other third parties, the Company:

- prohibits employees from accepting any bribe, kickback, or improper payment from anyone;
- requires clear and precise communication in the Company's contracts, its advertising, its Literature, and its other public statements and seeks to eliminate misstatements of fact or misleading impressions; and
- prohibits employees from otherwise taking unfair advantage of the Company's suppliers, or other third parties, through manipulation, concealment, abuse of privileged information or any other unfair-dealing practice.

Discrimination and Harassment

Elevation values the diversity of its employees and is committed to providing equal opportunity in all aspects of employment. Abusive, harassing or offensive conduct is unacceptable, whether verbal, physical or visual. Examples include derogatory comments based on racial or ethnic characteristics and unwelcome sexual advances. Employees are encouraged to speak out when a co-worker's conduct makes them uncomfortable. Any employee who believes that he or she has been subjected to sexual or other harassment should immediately advise their supervisor or, in instances in which they feel uncomfortable approaching their supervisor, discuss their concern with another manager.

Safety and Health

Both the Company and its employees are responsible for maintaining a safe and healthy workplace by following safety and health rules and practices. The Company is committed to keeping its workplaces free from hazards. Employees should report any accidents, injuries, unsafe equipment, practices or conditions immediately to a supervisor or other designated person.

Threats or acts of violence or physical intimidation are prohibited

In order to protect the safety of all employees, employees must report to work in condition to perform their duties and free from the influence of any substance that could prevent them from conducting work activities safely and effectively.

Use of E-Mail, Internet and Telephone Services

E-mail, internet and telephone services provided by the Company must never be used for personal gain or any improper purpose. Sending or downloading information that could be insulting or offensive to another person is forbidden. Such information includes sexually explicit material or jokes, unwelcome propositions, ethnic or racial slurs, or any other message that could be viewed as harassment.

Employees should not download copyrighted materials, should not copy material that is not licensed to the Company and should follow the terms of a license when using material that is licensed to the Company. No changes should be made to licensed materials without the prior consent of the Company. Employees are discouraged from downloading any material commonly known to be sources of viruses, such as screensavers and games.

E-mail messages, voicemail messages, and computer information are considered the Company's property and an employee should not have any expectation of privacy.

Political Activities and Contributions

Elevation respects and supports the right of its employees to participate in political activities. However, these activities should not be conducted on Company time or involve the use of any Company resources such as telephones, computers or supplies. Employees who participate in political activities must make every effort to ensure that they do not leave the impression that they speak or act for the Company. Employees will not be reimbursed for personal political contributions.

The Company will not make any direct financial donations or contributions to political parties or candidates during election campaigns.

Authorized spokespersons may occasionally express the Company's views on local and national issues that affect the Company's operations. In such cases, Company funds and resources may be used, but only when permitted by law and by any guidelines set by the Board of Directors.

Dealing with Public Officials

Employees are prohibited from offering or soliciting gifts, payments or other benefits to or from a public official as inducement to procuring or keeping business or having law or regulation enacted, defeated or violated.

When not prohibited by law, employees are allowed to give public officials gifts but only if such gifts are presented in a manner that clearly identifies the Company and the occasion warrants the presentation. All such gifts shall be of reasonable value. On special historic or ceremonial occasions, senior officers of the Company may publicly give gifts of more than nominal value to public institutions and public bodies. All gifts intended for public officials or institutions must be approved in advance by the Chairman of the Board and CEO with details of such gifts provided to the CFO for reporting purposes.

These guidelines apply at all times, and do not change during traditional gift-giving seasons.

From time to time, employees may entertain public officials, with courtesies such as meals and beverages, tickets to sporting or cultural events, but only under the following conditions:

- it is legal and permitted by the entity represented by the official;
- the entertainment is not solicited by the public official;
- the entertainment occurs infrequently;
- it arises out of the ordinary course of business;
- it cannot be construed as a bribe or payoff;
- it does not involve lavish expenditures, considering the circumstances; and
- the settings and types of entertainment are reasonable, appropriate and fitting to employees, their guests and the business at hand.

Gifts and Entertainment

The Company acknowledges that business gifts and entertainment are customary to developing and maintaining good business relationships among business partners. Such courtesies include meals and beverages, tickets to sporting or cultural events, discounts not available to the general public, travel, accommodation and other merchandise or services.

Even though such gifts and entertainment are customary, such courtesies cannot compromise, or appear to compromise, the ability to make objective and fair business decisions. Therefore, offering or receiving any gift, gratuity or entertainment that might be perceived to unfairly influence a business relationship must be avoided. These guidelines apply at all times, and do not change during traditional gift-giving seasons.

Employees are prohibited from soliciting gifts, entertainment, gratuities, or any other personal benefit or favor of any kind from current or potential suppliers or business partners.

No gift or entertainment should ever be offered, given, provided or accepted by any employee of the Company, or by any family member of an employee, unless it:

- is not a cash gift;
- is consistent with customary business practices;
- involves reasonable expenditures not excessive in value;
- cannot be construed as a bribe or payoff;
- does not violate any applicable laws or regulations.

Unsolicited entertainment may only take place in settings that are reasonable, appropriate and fitting to employees, their hosts, and the business at hand.

In some international or traditional cultures, it is customary to give unsolicited or overly generous gifts to employees, the return of which may be construed as an affront to the giver. In such cases, the gift must be reported to both the Company's CEO and CFO who will, together, determine whether or not the gift will be retained and whether or not the gift will be transferred to the ownership of the Company.

Employees should discuss with their supervisor any gifts or proposed gifts if they are uncertain whether they are appropriate.

Use of Agents

Agents or other non-employees cannot be used to circumvent the law. Employees will not retain agents or other representatives to engage in practices that run contrary to this Code.

Compliance and Reporting of any Illegal or Unethical Behavior/Whistle Blower Policy

Employees are required to report all potential or perceived breaches of this Code. If a situation requires that an employee's identity be kept secret, the company will protect anonymity. The Company will strive to ensure that all questions or concerns are handled fairly, discreetly and thoroughly.

If an applicable individual has any concerns about accounting, audit, internal controls or financial reporting matters which he or she considers to be questionable, incorrect, misleading or fraudulent, the applicable individual is urged to come forward with any such information, complaints or concerns without regard to the position of the person or persons responsible for the subject matter of the relevant complaint or concern.

The company has adopted a Whistle Blower Policy that allows an employee to put concerns in writing on a confidential basis.

Please see the Company's Whistle Blower Policy.

This Code is not intended to address all of the situations an employee may encounter. Since all situations cannot be anticipated, an employee may be confronted by circumstances not referred to in this Code. Employees are encouraged to use best judgment and common sense. Good intentions and failure to seek timely advice or report a situation will not excuse violations of this code. If something seems unethical or improper it probably is.

Policy against Retaliation

The Company prohibits any employee from retaliating or taking adverse action against anyone for raising suspected conduct violations or helping to resolve a conduct concern. Any individual who has been found to have engaged in retaliation against an employee for raising, in good faith, a conduct concern or for participating in the investigation of such a concern may be subject to discipline, up to and including termination of employment or other business relationship. If any individual believes that he or she has been subject to such retaliation, that person is encouraged to report the situation as soon as possible to the Audit Committee Chairman, in accordance with provisions of this Code.

Relationship to Other Policies

All Company policies apply to employees. If such person is a director, applicable corporate law and any guidelines of the Board of Directors in force from time to time will guide him or her procedurally in his or her position as a director. In addition, if such person is a member of a committee of the Board of Directors, the applicable committee charter(s) should guide his or her conduct in carrying out his or her duties on such committee. In the event of any conflict between such policies and this Code, the terms of this Code shall govern.

No Rights Created

This Code is a statement of fundamental principles and key policies and procedures that govern the conduct of the Company's business. It is not intended to and does not, in any way, constitute an employment contract or an assurance of continued employment or create any rights in any employee, director, client, supplier, competitor, shareholder or any other person or entity.

Waivers of this Code

Waivers of this Code may be made only by the Board of Directors. Any such waiver will be promptly disclosed to the extent required by applicable laws or stock exchange regulations.

The CEO shall be responsible to ensure that all employees are made aware of this Code on an annual basis. All directors, officers, project managers, and general managers of the Company and its subsidiaries are required to sign an acknowledgement of adherence to this Code. (See Appendix A).

- 7.1 "Material Information" consists of both "material facts" and "material changes". A "material fact" means a fact that significantly affects, or would reasonably be expected to have a significant effect on, the market price or value of the securities of the Company. A "material change" means a change in the business, operations or capital of the Company that would reasonably be expected to have a significant effect on the market price or value of any of the securities of the Company and includes a decision to implement such a change if such a decision is made by the board of directors or by senior management of the Company who believe that confirmation of the decision by the board of directors is probable.
- 7.2 Any person to whom this Policy applies who becomes aware of information that has the possibility of being Material Information must immediately disclose that information to the Chief Executive Officer or the Chief Financial Officer and the Chief Executive Officer or Chief Financial Officer will advise the Disclosure Committee. Appendix "B" attached lists examples of Material Information.
- 7.3 Upon the occurrence of any change that may constitute a material change in respect of the Company, the Disclosure Committee, in consultation with such other advisors as it may consider necessary, will:

- 8.2 Directors, Officers, Employees and Contractors must advise the Chief Executive Officer if they are aware of any discussion of information regarding the Company in a chat room, newsgroup or bulletin board.

9. Rumors

So long as it is clear that the Company was not the source of a market rumor, the Company will not comment, affirmatively or negatively, on rumors. This also applies to rumors on the Internet. Spokespersons will respond consistently to those rumors, saying "It is our policy not to comment on market rumors or speculation." If a relevant stock exchange or securities regulatory authority requests that the Company make a statement in response to a market rumor, the Disclosure Committee will consider the matter and make a recommendation to the Chief Executive Officer as to the nature and context of any response.

10. Website

- 10.1 The Chief Executive Officer is responsible for updating the Company's website and is responsible for monitoring all information placed on such website. All such information shall be dated when posted or modified.

- 11.2 Any person to whom this Policy applies and who has knowledge of Undisclosed Material Information must treat the Material Information as confidential until the Material Information has been Generally Disclosed.
- 11.3 Undisclosed Material Information will not be disclosed to anyone except in the necessary course of business. The securities regulators have issued guidance on the circumstances in which disclosure may be in the necessary course of business. If Undisclosed Material Information has been disclosed in the necessary course of business, anyone so informed must clearly understand that it is to be kept confidential, and, in appropriate circumstances, execute a confidentiality agreement. When in doubt if this Policy applies, consult with the Chief Executive Officer to determine whether disclosure in a particular circumstance is in the necessary course of business. For greater certainty, disclosure to analysts, institutional investors, other market professionals and members of the press and other media will not be considered to be in the necessary course of business. "Tipping", which refers to the disclosure of Undisclosed Material Information to third parties outside the necessary course of business, is prohibited.

11.4 In order to prevent the misuse or inadvertent disclosure of Undisclosed Material Information, the procedures set forth below should be observed at all times:

During a Quiet Period, Spokespersons must not provide any Forward-Looking Information relating to the business and affairs of the Company or any of its subsidiaries, including information relating to expected revenues, net income or profit, earnings per share, expenditure levels and other information commonly referred to as earnings guidance ("Earnings Guidance") or comments with respect to the financial results for the current fiscal quarter or current fiscal year. Notwithstanding these restrictions, the Company may Generally Disclose Forward-Looking Information during the Quiet Period when the Forward-Looking Information constitutes Undisclosed Material Information. During a Quiet Period, Spokespersons may respond to unsolicited inquiries about information either that is not Material Information or that has been Generally Disclosed.

13. Avoiding Selective Disclosure

13.1 When participating in shareholder meetings, news conferences, analysts' conferences and private meetings with analysts or institutional investors, Spokespersons must only disclose information that either (1) is not Material Information or (2) is Material Information but has previously been Generally Disclosed. Any selective disclosure of Undisclosed Material Information, including Earnings Guidance, is not permitted.

13.2 If Undisclosed Material Information is inadvertently disclosed, the Disclosure Committee will take immediate steps to ensure that the information is Generally Disclosed and the Company will contact the parties to whom the Material Information was disclosed and inform them: (a) that the information is Undisclosed Material Information, and (b) of their legal obligations with respect to the Material Information. The Company should also take immediate steps to ensure that a full public announcement is made.

14. Analyst Reports

14.1 When reviewing analysts' reports, comments of Directors, Officers, Employees and Contractors must be limited to identifying and or pointing out inaccuracies of factual information that has been Generally Disclosed. No comfort or guidance will be expressed on the analysts' earnings models or earnings estimates and no attempt will be made to influence an analyst's opinion or conclusion.

To demonstrate our determination and commitment to the purposes of this Policy, the Company asks each Contractor, Employee and Officer review this Policy periodically throughout the year. Take the opportunity to discuss with

BLACKOUTS AND SECURITIES TRADING POLICY

The Company encourages all employees, officers and directors to become shareholders of the Company on a long-term investment basis. These individuals will from time to time become aware of corporate developments or plans or other information that may affect the value of the Company's securities before these developments, plans or information are made public. Trading securities of the Company while in possession of such information before it is generally disclosed (known as "insider trading"), or disclosing such information to third parties before it is generally disclosed (known as "tipping"), is against the law and may expose an individual to criminal prosecution or civil lawsuits. Such action will also result in a lack of confidence in the market for the Company's securities, harming both the Company and its shareholders. Accordingly, the Company has established this Policy to assist its employees, consultants, officers and directors in complying with the prohibitions against insider trading and tipping.

The procedures and restrictions set forth in this Policy are only a general framework to assist Company Personnel, as defined below, in ensuring that any purchase or sale of securities occurs without actual or perceived violation of applicable securities laws. Company Personnel have the ultimate responsibility for complying with applicable securities laws and should obtain additional guidance, including independent legal advice, as may be appropriate for their own circumstances.

The CEO may designate from time to time the Insider Trading Policy Administrator for the purpose of administering this Policy. In the event that no Insider Trading Policy Administrator is designated, the Corporate Secretary will fulfill this role.

Application

Persons who are Subject to this Policy

The following persons are required to observe and comply with this Policy:

- a. all directors, officers and manager-level employees of the Company or its subsidiaries;
- b. any other person retained by or engaged in business of professional activity with or on behalf of the Company or any of its subsidiaries (such as a consultant, independent contractor or adviser);

- d. partnerships, trusts, corporations, RRSP's and similar entities over which any of the above-mentioned individuals exercise control or direction.

For the purposes of this Policy, the persons listed above are collectively referred to as "Company Personnel". Paragraphs (c) and (d) should be carefully reviewed by Company Personnel; those paragraphs have the effect of making various family members or holding companies or trusts of the persons referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b) subject to the Policy.

Trades that are Subject to this Policy

Under this Policy, all references to trading in securities of the Company include (i) any sale or purchase of securities of the Company, including the exercise of stock options granted under the Company's stock option plan and the acquisition of shares or any other securities pursuant to any Company benefit plan or arrangement, and (ii) any derivatives-based or other transaction or arrangement that would be required to be reported by insiders in accordance with applicable laws or regulations relating to derivatives or equity monetization transactions (including National Instrument 55-104 – Insider Reporting Requirements and Exemptions).

Inside Information

"Inside Information" means:

- a. a change in the business, operations or capital of the Company that would reasonably be expected to have a significant effect on the market price or value of the securities of the Company (which includes any decision to implement such a change by the Board of Directors or by senior management who believe that confirmation of the decision by the Board of Directors is probable);
- b. a fact that significantly affects, or would reasonably be expected to have a significant effect on, the market price or value of the securities of the Company; or
- c. any information which is not generally available to the public that a reasonable investor would be likely to consider important in deciding whether to buy, hold or sell securities of the Company, in each case, which has not been generally disclosed. Examples of information that may constitute Inside Information are set out in Schedule A attached hereto. It is the responsibility of any Company Personnel contemplating a trade in securities of the Company to determine prior to such trade whether he or she is aware of any information that constitutes Inside Information. If in doubt, the individual should consult with the Insider Trading Policy Administrator.

Prohibition Against Trading on Inside Information

Company Personnel must not purchase, sell or otherwise trade securities of the Company with the knowledge of Inside Information until:

- a. one full business day has elapsed after the disclosure to the public of the Inside Information, whether by way of press release or a filing made with securities regulatory authorities; or
- b. the Inside Information ceases to be material (e.g. a potential transaction that was the subject of the information is abandoned, and either Company Personnel are so advised by the Insider Trading Policy Administrator or such abandonment has been generally disclosed).

In addition, Company Personnel must not make any trades in securities of the Company during the black-out periods described under the heading “Restrictions on Trading of Company Securities” below.

Anti-hedging Policy – Prohibited and Limited Transactions

Certain types of trades in securities of the Company by Company Personnel can raise particular concerns about potential breaches of applicable securities law or that the interests of the persons making the trade are not aligned with those of the Company. Company Personnel are therefore prohibited at any time, or are subject to pre-clearance in certain circumstances, from, directly or indirectly, undertaking any of the following activities, even if they do not possess material non-public information:

Speculating in securities of the Company. This may include:

- a. buying with the intention of quickly reselling such securities, or selling securities of the Company with the intention of quickly buying such securities (other than in connection with the acquisition and sale of shares issued under the Company’s stock option plan or any other Company benefit plan or arrangement);
- b. “put” or “call” options where you have the right to sell or purchase, respectively, a specific number of shares at a specific number of shares before a set date; and
- b. “short sales” which are transactions where you borrow shares and then sell them, with the intention of buying the shares at a later date at a lower price to replace the borrowed shares.

Hedging transactions. Hedging or monetization transactions can be accomplished through the use of various financial instruments, including prepaid variable forwards, equity swaps, collars and exchange funds. Any person wishing to enter into such an arrangement or any other arrangement that is designed or would have the effect of hedging securities granted to or held by such person or that could reduce such person's economic risk with respect to their holdings, ownership or interest in or to securities of the Company, must first obtain written pre-clearance from the CEO, as described in "Restrictions on Trading of Company Securities - Exemptions" below. However, if any hedging transaction is considered a short-sale, it will be prohibited. In any event, no director or officer of the Company is permitted to purchase financial instruments, including, for greater certainty, prepaid variable forward contracts, equity swaps, collars, or units of exchange funds that are designed to hedge or offset a decrease in market value of any Company securities granted as compensation or held, directly or indirectly, by such director or officer.

Margin accounts and pledged securities. Securities held in a margin account or pledged as collateral can be sold without your consent in certain circumstances. This means that a margin sale or foreclosure sale may occur at a time when the pledgor is aware of material non-public information. Consequently, any person wishing to enter into such an arrangement must first obtain written pre-clearance from the CEO, as described in "Restrictions on Trading of Company Securities - Exemptions" below.

Managed accounts. If you have a managed account (where another person has been given discretion or authority to trade without your prior approval), you should advise your broker or investment adviser not to trade in Company securities at any time without your prior approval. This restriction does not apply to investments in publicly available mutual funds.

Restrictions on Trading of Company Securities

Scheduled Black-out Periods

Directors, officers and certain other Company Personnel who are designated by management from time to time shall not trade in securities of the Company:

- a. during the period commencing on the 45th day following each of the Company's first, second and third fiscal quarters and ending on after one full business day has elapsed following the date on which a press release has been issued in respect of the Company's interim financial statements; and
- b. during the period commencing on the 105th day following the Company's fiscal year end and ending on after one full business day has elapsed following the date on which a press release has been issued in respect of the Company's annual financial statements;

The trading restrictions described above (each a "Black-Out Period") also apply to the exercise of stock options granted under the Company's stock option plan and any other securities that may be acquired pursuant to any Company benefit plan or arrangement.

Extraordinary Black-out Periods

Additional Black-Out Periods may be prescribed from time to time by the CEO at any time at which it is determined there may be undisclosed Inside Information concerning the Company that makes it inappropriate for Company Personnel to be trading. In such circumstances, the Insider Trading Policy Administrator will issue a notice instructing these individuals not to trade in securities of the Company until further notice. This notice will contain a reminder that the fact that there is a restriction on trading may itself constitute inside information or information that may lead to rumours and must be kept confidential.

Exemptions

Individuals subject to a Black-Out Period who wish to trade Company securities may apply to the Insider Trading Policy Administrator for approval to trade securities of the Company during the Black-Out Period. Any such request should describe the nature of and reasons for the proposed trade. The CEO will consider such requests and the Insider Trading Policy Administrator will inform the requisitioning individual whether or not the proposed trade may be made. The requisitioning individual may not make any such trade until he or she has received the specific notification from the Insider Trading Policy Administrator that the trade has been approved.

Prohibition Against Tipping

Company Personnel are prohibited from communicating Inside Information to any person outside the Company, unless: (i) disclosure is in the necessary course of the Company's business provided that the person receiving such information first enters into a confidentiality agreement in favour of the Company (which should contain, among other things, an acknowledgement by the recipient of the requirements of applicable securities laws relating to such recipient trading securities with knowledge of a material fact or material change in respect of the Company that has not been generally disclosed and to such recipient information another person or company such a material fact or material change) and the disclosure is made pursuant to the proper performance by such Company Personnel of his or her duties on behalf of the Company; (ii) disclosure is compelled by judicial process; or (iii) disclosure is expressly authorized by notification from the Insider Trading Policy Administrator.

Subject to the above, Inside Information is to be kept strictly confidential by all Company Personnel until after it has been generally disclosed. Discussing Inside Information within the hearing of, or leaving it exposed to, any person who has no need to know is to be avoided at all times. Company Personnel with knowledge of Inside Information shall not encourage any other person or company to trade in the securities of the Company, regardless of whether the Inside Information is specifically communicated to such person or company.

If any Company Personnel has any doubt with respect to whether any information is Inside Information or whether disclosure of Inside Information is in the necessary course of business, the individual is required to contact the Insider Trading Policy Administrator.

Securities of Other Companies

In the course of the Company's business, Company Personnel may obtain information about another publicly traded company that has not been generally disclosed. Securities laws generally prohibit such Company Personnel from trading in securities of that other company while in possession of such information or communicating such information to another person. The restrictions set out in this Policy apply to all Company Personnel with respect to both trading in the securities of another company while in possession of such information, and communicating such information.

Reporting Requirements

Certain persons related to the Company, including its directors, senior officers, persons who receive material information and direct its operations, persons who are responsible for a principal business unit and significant shareholders are "reporting insiders" under applicable securities laws. Reporting insiders are required to file reports with securities regulators of any direct or indirect beneficial ownership of, or control or direction over, securities of the Company and of any change in such ownership, control or direction.

It is the responsibility of each reporting insider (and not the Company) to comply with these reporting requirements, and reporting insiders are required to provide the Corporate Secretary of the Company with a copy of any insider report completed by the reporting insider concurrent with or in advance of its filing. The Company will assist any reporting insider in the preparation and filing of insider reports upon request.

Penalties and Civil Liabilities

The applicable securities laws that impose insider trading and tipping prohibitions also impose substantial penalties and civil liability for any breach of those prohibitions, namely:

- (a) Criminal fines of up to $5,000,000 and three times the profit made or loss avoided;
- (b) Prison sentence of up to five years less a day; and

- (c) Civil liability of up to three times the profit made or loss avoided by reason of the contravention.

Where a company is found to have committed an offence, the directors, officers and supervisory Company Personnel of the company may be subject to the same or additional penalties.

Enforcement

It is a condition of the appointment, employment or engagement of all Company Personnel that they at all times abide by the standards, requirements and procedures set out in this Policy unless a written authorization to proceed otherwise is received from the Insider Trading Policy Administrator. Any such person who violates this Policy may face disciplinary action up to and including termination of his or her employment or appointment with or engagement by the Company without notice. The violation of this Policy may also violate certain securities laws. If it appears that a Company Personnel may have violated such securities laws, the Company may refer the matter to the appropriate regulatory authorities, which could lead to penalties, fines or imprisonment.

Should you have any questions or wish information concerning the above, please contact the CEO.
